P R E F A C E.

If it was supposed that the patrons of this Directory looked for perfection, we should hesitate before submitting it to their inspection. There is no book in which it is so difficult to avoid errors; besides, the labor of compiling a work of the kind is much greater than any person would suppose who had never tried the experiment.

Our thanks are due first to the Editors; for how can any important undertaking succeed without their assistance and co-operation?

To the Pastors of the several Churches many thanks are due, for their courtesy in furnishing the information respecting their various charges.

To the Superintendents of the several Sabbath Schools we would return our most grateful acknowledgements, for their co-operation in what we believe to be the first separate and full Directory in this particular department in any city.

Our worthy County Superintendent, Mr. D. L. Gorton, and our City Superintendent, Mr. A. S. Kissell, have rendered very valuable service in giving us information with regard to our public schools, for which we return our thanks.

The artistic skill displayed in the printing and binding of the book by Luse, Lane & Co., shows that they employ none but the best of workmen in every department of their business, which is increasing from year to year, calling for additional men and machinery.

Mr. Augustus Hagebæk, by his superior execution of our title page, gives evidence that the lithographic art is not confined to Eastern cities, but has a foothold in the great West. His is the only establishment of the kind in the State of Iowa. Mr. H. is a young man, and we hope he may live to see his favorite art grow to a large and flourishing business.

And lastly, we would tender our especial thanks to the business men of Davenport, for their very liberal patronage of the work, both by subscription and advertising. Our new style of advertising—that of placing cards at the heads of the pages containing the names and other reading matter, so that in most cases but one advertisement can be seen at a time—proved to be quite popular, and contributed very materially to the success of the enterprise.

This is the sixth Directory for our city. It has also had its "Past and Present," but much might be said of its "Present and Future." We do not design to write a general article on this subject, but cannot forbear to mention the fact, that business of all kinds was never done on a more firm basis than at present. The three substantial monied institutions of our city affording ample capital for moving the immense crops of grain just now beginning to find its way to market, and the pork crop that must soon begin to come in, will swell the business so as to make this fall and winter the most prosperous in the history of Davenport. Strangers are daily arriving from the older States, dwelling houses are in great demand, old ones are filled and new ones engaged before completed. Though much activity prevails and many additions have been made to the manufacturing interests of our city, (among which the Woolen Factory put in operation by Mr. Joseph Shields deserves to be mentioned,) yet it is not necessary in this article to speak specifically of all the various branches of industry, nor of our different institutions—religious, literary and benevolent—as these are treated of in their appropriate places in this work, to which the reader is referred. Davenport, by its beauty of location, its commercial advantages, the intelligence of its people, the variety and excellence of its institutions, may be registered among the most attractive of Western cities.

THE PUBLISHER.

HISTORY OF DAVENPORT DIRECTORIES.

The first directory for Davenport was compiled by William S. Spencer, and printed and bound by Luse & Coles. It was accompanied by a Directory for East Davenport, which was not then a part of the city. This Directory was issued in May, 1855. Price, $1.00.

The second was a Directory for Davenport and East Davenport, Iowa, and Rock Island, Moline and Camden, Ill. It was compiled by our present fellow citizen, W. H. Fleming, Esq., and Dolphus Torrey, now Captain of Company D, 20th Iowa Infantry. The printing for the Camden, Moline and Rock Island parts was done at Raymond's printing house in Rock Island. The remainder of the printing and the binding was done by A. P. Luse & Co., of this city. Issued August 1st, 1856. Price, $1.00.

The third was a Directory for Davenport, Rock Island and Moline. It was compiled by Tanner, Halpin & Co. The printing and binding was done at Chicago, Ill. Issued April 1st, 1858. Price, $1.50.

About the time the third Directory was published, a book entitled, "Davenport Past and Present," edited by Franc B. Wilkie, was issued by the publishing house of Luse, Lane & Co., containing 338 octavo pages, embellished with the portraits on steel of eight of the early settlers of the city, and lithographic portraits of the two Indian chiefs, Keokuk and Black Hawk, a lithographic view of the city of Davenport, and views of ten or twelve public and private buildings. The subscription price of this book was $1.50. Owing to the depressed state of business at the time it came out, several hundred copies remain unsold, which the publishers are now offering at merely nominal prices. Issued April 5th, 1858.

The fourth was a Directory for Davenport, Rock Island and Moline. It was compiled by E. Coy & Co. The printing and binding were done by Luse, Lane & Co. Issued October, 1859. Price, $2.00.

The fifth was a Directory of Davenport, Rock Island and Moline. It was compiled and published by Alasco D. Brigham, of Harrisburg, Penn. The printing and binding were done by Luse, Lane & Co. Issued in May, 1861. Price, $1.50.

All the above Directories were styled, "Twin Cities," except the first, which was for Davenport and East Davenport. East Davenport having since become a part of the city, this one is simply a Directory for the City of Davenport.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The schools of a nation, state, or city, being among the most vital institutions for good, we take pleasure in laying before our readers such facts as we think will be interesting to every friend of education. It will easily be perceived that, notwithstanding our schools are so far in advance of everything of the kind in former ages, and that our State, and especially our young city, is in the front ranks in adopting these improvements, there is yet a great field open before us in the preparation of teachers for their vocation.

The public schools of this State are supported by the income of a school fund, and by taxation; ample provision being made for at least six months of schooling for every child for each year. Every township constitutes a township school district, which is divided into sub-districts for the purpose of better conveniences of public instruction. Each sub-district is under the control of a sub-director, who is governed in his actions by the Board of Directors, which is composed of as many sub-directors as there are sub-districts in the township. The power to elect the President, Secretary and Treasurer of the Board of Directors, is vested in the sub-directors. All of the school officers are elected annually, save in special cases, for which the law makes provision under the head of Independent School Districts.

Under this provision come the schools of the City of Davenport. They are carried on under the system of Graded Schools, in which the work of instruction is more systematized, and the minds of the pupils are developed more in accordance with the laws of mind and the principles and theory of education. Here we find a course of instruction gradual and complete, from "Object Lessons," in the primary departments, to the completion of the course in the High School, from which young ladies and gentlemen go out every year to fill important stations in life, or to take a still higher course of study in some institution where the course of instruction is more extensive.

These schools are free to all persons between five and twenty-one years of age; the number of whom, from the past year's report, is found to be 3,230 in this city. The average number of pupils in the schools was 2,030. The average attendance was 1,350.

The average cost of tuition per week for each pupil is about 15 cents, or $6.00 per year, making an amount of about $9.000 or $10.000 as the cost of instruction for one year of ten school months. Of this amount, between $7,000 and 8,000 are paid to teachers.

Thinking exercises were introduced in the Primary Schools in 1861. But, after a few years' trial, it was discovered that, with all the advantages which "Thinking and Speaking Exercises" were to the schools, the system would be continually interrupted by the annual change of teachers, which is unavoidable; and the Primary Schools would be compelled to exchange well qualified and practical teachers for mere novices in the vocation, unless a different system were adopted. These disadvantages being manifest to the Board of Directors, they could see no other remedy but to introduce a system in their own schools by which teachers could be educated for this department. The people had also levied a tax, in March, 1863, and instructed the Board to use the funds arising from such tax to erect a new school house in East Davenport. The Board, desirous of carrying out the wish of the people, and of erecting a building after the most improved plan; and also wishing to remedy the evil referred to in the primary schools, determined to avail themselves of all the necessary information, before erecting said building or adding anything to the primary schools. Accordingly, having heard of the notoriety of the public schools of Oswego, N. Y., the Board sent Mr. A. S. Kissell, City Superintendent, May 21st, 1863, to visit the latter schools, to secure the desired information. On his return, he recommended that a Training School be established in connection with the High School of this city, for the benefit of teachers and pupils of the High School in preparation for teaching. The Board, unwilling to incur any additional expense in carrying on the schools of the city, would not assume any pecuniary responsibility in adopting the suggestions of the Superintendent, but were friendly to the plan, provided the Training School could be carried on without any expense to the city. Mr. K., in accordance with his suggestions, agreed to assume all pecuniary responsibility in founding such a school, if he could have the hearty co-operation of the Board. This being granted, the Davenport City Training School was opened September 21st, 1863.

The services of two efficient teachers, graduates of the Oswego Training School, have been secured. At the opening of the school, there were ten students in the class, who are now in process of preparation for the vocation of teaching.

These training schools are quite numerous in England and Scotland, and the system on which they are based prevails throughout the best schools of Prussia, Holland, Switzerland and France. They are the result of the labors of such men as Pestalozzi, of Switzerland, Disterwey, Krause and others, of Germany, Lord Brougham and Sir James Kay Shuttleworth, of Great Britain. The latter country has 5,000 pupil teachers in process of education in its training schools. The buildings which have been erected in England, Scotland and Wales for these schools have cost over $2,000,-

000. In Prussia there are over 40,000 teachers who have been educated in similar schools.

The first training school founded in the United States was at Oswego, N. Y., 1861, by E. A. Sheldon, superintendent of schools; the second, at Beverly, N. J., 1862, by Wm. F. Phelps, Principal State Normal School; the third by the Superintendent of the schools of this city.

Professional teachers and the friends of education are anticipating very favorable results to the vocation of teaching from these training institutions. The principles upon which they are based are very simple, and any one who will examine their practical worth, can not resist the conviction that a better day has dawned on the youth of our land than those dry, irksome days which we were wont to waste in the school-room.

This is not a Bible Society in name merely; but since the rebellion has been in progress, it has furnished the soldiers rendezvoused in the camps in and around this city a large number of Bibles and Testaments, besides supplying all the camp hospitals. Its present officers are the Hon. Hiram Price, President; J. Smith Conner, Secretary; Henry Alling, Treasurer. Depository at Price & Conner's, Brady street between 3d and 4th.

BENEVOLENT ORGANIZATIONS.

TEMPERANCE SOCIETIES.

Scott Division No. 1, Sons of Temperance.—Organized October 5, 1847. Meets every Friday evening in Temperance Hall, second story of new State Bank building, south-east corner of Third and Brady streets. Present officers, Charles E. Putnam, W. P.; John E. Henry, W. A.; Franklin Kirk, R. S.; J. Smith Conner, F. S.; John Collins, Treas. It is not easy to ascertain the number of its members; so many having entered the army, but as an example of its efficiency, the roll of membership shows that for the first six months of the current year, 350 have been initiated. Many of them from the camps in and around the city were thus, at the same time, drilling to fight king Alcohol and king Jeff. The fires have never ceased to burn on the altars of this Division from its organization. It has not at any time missed a single meeting for the want of a quorum.

Adar Lodge No. 257, Independent Order of Good Templars.—Organized July 13, 1861. Meets every Tuesday evening in Temperance Hall. Present officers, J. J. Severance, W. C. T.; Mrs. C. B. McLaughlin, W. V. T.; Mrs. Anna Collins, W. S.; Miss Fanny Rouser, Treas. Has 70 members.

RELIEF SOCIETIES.

Davenport Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society.—Organized September, 1861. Meets every Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the Christian Church, east side of Brady between Fourth and Fifth streets. Present officers, Mrs. D. T. Newcomb, President; Mrs. Alfred Sanders, Vice President; Mrs. Capt. John Galligan, Treasurer; Mrs. Charles Lesslie, Secretary. The real workers of this Society are few, but they compensate by their industry for the lack of numbers, and have done much in the preparation of delicacies to relieve the sufferings of our soldiers in the field.

Davenport City Relief Society.—Organized August 28th, 1863, for the purpose of giving aid to the destitute in the city. Officers: Mayor John E. Henry, President; George L. Davenport, Treasurer; F. H. Griggs, Secretary.
